

It's our business to make yours easier. And better.

As “Bankers to Business,” California Business Bank provides valuable financial expertise to build your business.

What does that mean for small and medium-sized businesses?

- You have a financial team on your side that knows how to help you compete better in your specific business.
- We listen. We make it our business to know your financial goals and challenges as well as you do.
- Our highly experienced management and banking team provides you with extensive insight to successfully manage all your financial transactions from the simple to the most complex.

Our job is to tailor our services to your needs.

Our goal is to make your business better.

We bring the bank to you.

Today, it's not enough for a business bank to just be there for you.

So we've come up with a better concept. We call it Banker in the Field.

We realize your time is valuable. Now you can eliminate trips to the bank. We will make timely visits to your place of business (or at a meeting place of your choice). It's our mission to make your banking experience as convenient and helpful as possible.

Our bankers provide you with expert hands-on service, delivered right to your door.

With California Business Bank as your financial partner, you can use your time more profitably.

We're in step with your business.

As a growing business, you want knowledgeable and professional bankers you can trust. Smart people who can help you navigate the most complex of business plans and financial transactions.

You will have access to our senior management team. A group of bankers with extensive financial knowledge and backgrounds. Whatever your business niche, we have the people who know and understand your industry, relationship bankers with a genuine interest in your business.

An additional advantage is our diversified Board of Directors, which offers many years of successful business management and financial planning experience.

We deliver the financial expertise and the high tech financial products and services that are just the right fit for your business.

One team. One goal. Your success.

Your bank.

Your accountant.

Your lawyer.

Your financial advisor.

Your insurance agency.

Your employees.

We are team players that aspire to be an essential building block to your success.

As an integral part of your professional team, we work with you and with your CPA, lawyer, financial advisor, etc., to provide the best customized financial services package for your business. We will meet with your key team members to let them know who we are and how we fit in to accomplish your goals.
